Join us to learn about:

The Link Union Station (Link US) project, formerly known as the Southern California Regional Interconnector Project (SCRIP), is a Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority (Metro) project designed to meet the long-term regional rail needs at Los Angeles Union Station (LAUS) by allowing the station to function more efficiently and providing a better overall passenger experience.

Link US is made up of several key components, including:

- New run-through tracks over the US-101 freeway to provide one-seat rides to major destinations in Southern California
- Reconfiguration of the "throat" (station entry tracks) and "rail yard" (station arrival and boarding area)
- A new passenger concourse with retail, food services, passenger waiting areas, and other amenities
- A new loop track to provide operational flexibility
- Potential accommodation of future transportation options, including California High-Speed Rail (HSR)
 - California's electric high-speed rail will connect the mega-regions of the state, contribute to economic development and a cleaner environment, create jobs and preserve agricultural and protected lands
 - By 2029, the system will run from San Francisco Bay area to the Los Angeles Basin in under three hours at speeds capable of more than 200 miles per hour
