LAUSD's New $7 Billion Bond Measure
Measure Q – Safe and Healthy
Neighborhood Schools Measure of 2008

Measure Q, the Los Angeles Unified School District's (LAUSD) $7 billion school facilities bond measure will help ensure that all schools meet 21st century safety and modernization standards.

Measure Q does three important things:

1. Improve students' health and the safety of learning environments,
2. Repair aging and deteriorating schools, and
3. Provide LAUSD with the ability to transform the school district through smart, forward looking planning.

Despite the significant progress made by LAUSD to build and repair schools, the District still has more than $60 billion in capital improvement needs Districtwide. Measure Q will provide necessary upgrades and repairs to buildings so they are safe places for students to learn and succeed.

Measure Q will:

- Repair aging schools and improve student safety
- Upgrade schools to modern technology and educational needs
- Create capacity to attract, retain and graduate more students through a comprehensive portfolio of small high quality pre-K through adult schools
- Promote a healthier environment through green technology
